6. Period of delivery

- 6.1. The period of delivery commences upon dispatch of the order confirmation, however, not prior to submission of any documentation, licenses or approvals to be procured by the Purchaser in accordance to the contractual agreements. Another prerequisite for commencement of the period of delivery is receipt of any agreed down payment.
- 6.2. Insofar as the Supplier is not obliged to bring the goods to a place determined by the Purchaser, the period of delivery shall be deemed complied with when the goods have left the Supplier's premises by the expiry of the time limit or when the Purchaser has been notified of readiness for shipment.
- 6.3. If shipment is delayed due to circumstances attributable to the Purchaser, and should the Purchaser fail to collect the Products within and no later than 5 (five) working days from the agreed date, the Supplier reserves the right to charge the Purchaser for the storage and warehousing costs incurred from that date until the day of actual collection.

- 7.1 Ownership and risk shall pass to the customer no later than upon dispatch of the goods EX-WORKS, in accordance with INCOTERMS 2020, unless otherwise agreed between the parties.
- 7.2 Should shipment be delayed at the Purchaser's request or for other reasons not attributable to the Supplier, the risk shall pass to the Purchaser at the time the ex-works delivery was originally scheduled. From this point on, goods are stored and insured at the Purchaser's risk and expense.

8. Defects of quality

The Supplier shall be liable for defects of the delivery to the following extent, excluding any additional claims, without prejudice to the Purchaser's right to cancel the contract subject to the provisions provided herein, unless the defect consists in the absence of warranted quality.

- 8.1 If the Supplier is liable for a defect, the Supplier shall have the right to remedy the defect and the Purchaser shall give them the opportunity to do so. (Repair or replacement without charge. Any parts replaced shall become the property of the Supplier)
- 8.2 Expenses incurred for the repair of the defect, in particular transport, travel, labour and material costs shall be borne by the Supplier, unless the expenses should increase due to subsequent relocation of the goods to a place other than the Purchaser's site and such relocation has not been agreed upon in writing.
- 8.3 The goods shall be inspected immediately upon receipt. Any obvious defects shall be notified to the Supplier in writing within 8 days after receipt in order to avoid loss of rights to claims for defects.
- 8.4 The Supplier shall not be held liable for any damage to which any of the following circumstances have contributed: Inadequate or improper use, incorrect assembly and/or improper starting up by the Purchaser or by any third party acting on the Purchaser's behalf, normal wear and tear, incorrect or negligent treatment, use of unsuitable operating materials or replacement materials, defective construction work, detrimental chemical, electromechanical or electrical influences, unless such damage is caused by fault of the Supplier.
- 8.5 The Purchaser shall grant the necessary time and give the Supplier the opportunity to carry out all those repairs and replacement deliveries as deemed necessary by the equitable discretion of the latter. Should the Purchaser fail to honour this obligation, the Supplier's warranty obligation shall be void. Only in cases of imminent danger to operational safety shall the Purchaser be entitled to have the defect remedied by Purchaser's own personnel or by a third party and to claim reasonable compensation for the costs incurred from the Supplier.
- 8.6 Claims for quality defects are subject to a legal limitation period of 12 months, as provided by art. 1490 et seq. of the Italian Civil Code, and 24 months if the Purchaser is a consumer within the meaning of Legislative Decree 24/2002 implementing European Directive 1999/44/EC. This shall not apply insofar as the law provides for longer periods.

- 8.7 Repair work performed by the Supplier which is not dependent on the quality of the products and therefore without legal obligation is not subject to warranty, with the exception of liability for damage for which the Supplier is responsible.
- 8.8 The Purchaser shall only have a right of recourse against the Supplier insofar as the Purchaser has not made any agreement with the end user exceeding statutory rights to claim defects of quality. Provision 8.2 shall apply accordingly.
- 8.9 Unless otherwise agreed in writing, the Supplier does not warrant that the equipment supplied complies with foreign standards and regulations.
- 8.10 The Supplier's liability shall be governed by the provisions of clause 9. Any further claims for defects of quality shall be excluded.

9. Liability

- 9.1 For any further claims, our liability in the event of fault shall be limited to the coverage offered by our liability insurance policy. This shall also apply to the personal liability of our employees, workers, associates, commercial agents and persons employed in the performance of our duties. Our insurance policy may be viewed by prior agreement. This limitation of liability shall also apply to damage other than on the goods themselves, unless the goods should lack qualities expressly warranted by us and the actual intention of this warranty was to protect the Purchaser against a loss other than on the goods themselves and/or if silence has been maintained about a defect with malicious intent.
- 9.2 Any further claims for damages and reimbursement of expenses by the Purchaser shall be excluded. This shall not apply to indispensable claims pursuant to product liability legislation, in cases of intent or gross negligence, for violation of life, limb or health or culpable violation of a vital contractual obligation. However, in case of a violation of a vital contractual obligation the Supplier shall only be liable for the foreseeable damage as typical for the contract, again except in cases of intent or gross negligence, violation of life, limb or health. The provisions of clause 9 involve shifting the burden of proof to the detriment of the Purchaser.
